"Never see a need without trying to do something about it"
St. Mary MacKillop

Lauretta Graham
Principal

Dear Members of the MacKillop Catholic College Community,

Part time jobs can fit into a busy study/school schedule but school/study cannot fit into an almost full time job.

We acknowledge that many students need to find part time jobs to support themselves, supplement family incomes or pay for study expenses. Some studies show students with Part time jobs achieve better grades. Part time jobs can build confidence and competence.

When does a part time job hinder academic achievement? I believe this can be the case when:

- The employer has no understanding of the complex study demands of students today;
- Students repeatedly miss class due to tiredness;
- Students go to work when they should be at school; and,
- Insufficient home study time is left for students to complete their out of school study tasks.

These are just a few.

What does research say:

Rothstein (2007) noted that part-time employment while at school may encourage students to time manage, learn about workplace norms and responsibilities, and be motivated to achieve academic and career goals. On the other hand, the work may be distracting, tiring, and lead to diminished performance at school.

Mortimer, Staff and Oesterle (2003) noted that while much has been written about the negative effects of adolescent part-time employment little attention has been given to the fact that it is through part-time employment that adolescents can "acquire knowledge about the labour force, form occupational values, learn how to behave appropriately in the workplace, and acquire skills that will facilitate their adaptation to work and enhance the likelihood of later success in this domain." Again acknowledging the importance of number of hours in work, advocates maintain "that when youth limit the hours they spend in paid work, they are able to balance their multiple commitments to school, to family, and to their jobs, while at the same time acquiring workplace skills and resources that may help them to make good choices in selecting their future careers" (Staff, Mortimer & Uggen, 2004).

Quirk, Keith and Quirk (2001) raised the question of the relevance of the number of hours of work, and found that student employment contributed to greater academic achievement when it was less than 12 hours per week.

For students in full time study, working impacts on completion- the more hours worked, the greater the effect. Research shows working 16-24hours a week reduces the completion rate by eight percentage points, while more than 24 hours reduces it by 14 percentage points. (Karmel, T NCVET, 2011) What we can take from this is part -time work can be beneficial in many ways as long as the number of hours is realistic. After all, the students already have a full time job, this is called school. Enjoy, debate and review as necessary with your sons and daughters.

Yours sincerely,

Lauretta Graham

When a fierce quake strikes the remote island of Bluehaven, and her father disappears, Jane Doe is thrown headfirst into an epic quest to bring him home.

But this ain't no ordinary rescue mission. Her father is lost in a place between worlds; a dangerous labyrinth of shifting rooms, infernal booby traps and secret gateways. And Jane has to find him fast, because someone else is searching for him, too. A man who knows her father's secrets and has an army.

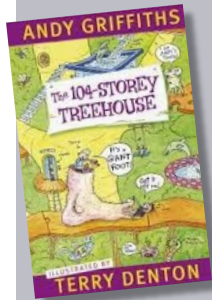

With a pyromaniac named Violet and the enigmatic Hickory by her side, Jane is about to discover that this adventure is even bigger on the inside than it looks ...

Seventeen-year-old Pru Palmer lives with her twin sisters, Grace and Blythe, and their father, Rick, on the outskirts of an isolated mining community. The Palmers are doomsday preppers. They have a bunker filled with non-perishable food and a year's worth of water.

One day while Rick is at the mine, the power goes out. At the Palmers' house, and in the town. All communication is cut. No one knows why. It doesn't take long for everything to unravel. In town, supplies run out and people get desperate. The sisters decide to keep their bunker a secret. The world is different; the rules are different. Survival is everything, and family comes first.

Join Andy and Terry in their wonderfully wild and wacky 104-storey treehouse. You can throw some refrigerators, make some money with the money-making machine (or honey if you'd prefer-it makes that too), climb the never-ending staircase, have a bunfight, deposit some burps in the burp bank, get totally tangled up in the tangled-up level, or just take some time out and relax in the peaceful sunny meadow full of buttercups, butterflies and bluebirds. Well, what are you waiting for? Come on up!

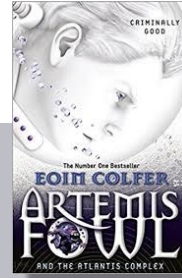

In the year 2045, reality is an ugly place. The only time teenage Wade Watts really feels alive is when he's jacked into the virtual utopia known as the OASIS. Wade's devoted his life to studying the puzzles hidden within this world's digital confines, puzzles that are based on their creator's obsession with the pop culture of decades past and that promise massive power and fortune to whoever can unlock them. When Wade stumbles upon the first clue, he finds himself beset by players willing to kill to take this ultimate prize. The race is on, and if Wade's going to survive, he'll have to win—and confront the real world he's always been so desperate to escape.

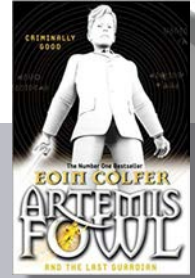

The evil pixie Opal Koboi has spent the last year in a self-induced coma, plotting her revenge on all those who foiled her attempt to destroy the LEPrecon fairy police. And Artemis Fowl is at the top of her list. After his last run-in with the fairies, Artemis had his mind wiped of his memories of the world belowground. But they have not forgotten about him. Once again, he must stop the human and fairy worlds from colliding—only this time, Artemis faces an enemy who may have finally outsmarted him.

What's New In the Library

Artemis has committed his entire fortune to a project he believes will save the planet and its inhabitants, both human and fairy. Can it be true? Has goodness taken hold of the world's greatest teenage criminal mastermind? Captain Holly Short is unconvinced, and discovers that Artemis is suffering from Atlantis Complex, a psychosis common among guilt-ridden fairies—not humans—and most likely triggered by Artemis's dabbling with fairy magic. Unfortunately, Atlantis Complex has struck at the worst possible time. A deadly foe from Holly's past is intent on destroying the actual city of Atlantis. Can Artemis escape the confines of his mind—and the grips of a giant squid—in time to save the underwater metropolis and its fairy inhabitants?

It's Armageddon Time for Artemis Fowl. Opal Koboi, power-crazed pixie, is plotting to exterminate mankind and become fairy queen. If she succeeds, the spirits of long-dead fairy warriors will rise from the earth, inhabit the nearest available bodies and wreak mass destruction. But what happens if those nearest bodies include crows, or deer, or badgers - or two curious little boys by the names of Myles and Beckett Fowl? Yes, it's true. Criminal mastermind Artemis Fowl's four-year-old brothers could be involved in destroying the human race. Can Artemis and Captain Holly Short of the Lower Elements Police stop Opal and prevent the end of the world?

VISIT FROM SIMON BIRMINGHAM - MINISTER FOR EDUCATION

Minister backs school funding plan

AMID a nationwide funding brawl which has left both the Catholic and public systems feeling short-changed, Education Minister Simon Birmingham yesterday broke bread with students and teachers at Palmerston's MacKillop Catholic College.

Although a recent Federal Government-commissioned review found Australian Catholic schools would be worse off under the model announced by Mr Birmingham last year, he yesterday said funding for NT Catholic schools would grow the fastest of any Catholic system in Australia, with a growth rate of 5.8 per cent per student per year.

And the Catholics aren't the only ones crying poor – according to NT Government modelling, the changes would leave public schools $150 million worse off over 10 years. During a visit to Clontarf Academy at Sanderson Middle School, Mr Birmingham announced a $1.5 million increase to the Duke of Edinburgh Award scheme.

Senator the Hon Simon Birmingham

Manager of Government Business in the Senate
Senator for South Australia

Mrs Lauretta Graham

20 AUG 2018

Dear Lauretta,

Thank you for hosting my recent visit with local MLA and Deputy Leader of the Opposition, Lia Finocchiaro, and CLP Candidate for Solomon Kathy Ganley. MacKillop is clearly a leader in developing significant opportunities to attract and engage its students in all fields – academic, sporting and artistic.

I was particularly impressed with the high standard of facilities for students interested in design and engineering, and hospitality, and your focus on providing first class pathways for students in all careers. I also welcome MacKillop's work to provide opportunities for the local community to use school facilities, particularly for theatre and music. As you know, this brings schools and communities together and is a clear part of your mission to serving the broader needs of local families.

In particular I would like to pass on my thanks to your amazing student chefs, kitchen hands and wait staff, who made and served us lunch – no visit to the Top End is complete without sampling not only the Barra, but also the refreshing mango salad. My thanks also go to the students who shared our lunch and endured the media and my questions. Their wide interests in careers, sports and dance demonstrate the opportunities they are receiving at MacKillop are being appreciated and fully utilised. I hope Jackson did well in the MacKillop Dash, and the dance class put on a great routine for the MacKillop's Got Talent Show on Feast Day.

The Commonwealth's funding for Northern Territory Catholic system schools will, on current projections, grow from $71.2 million in 2017 to more than $139 million in 2027, growth of more than 96 per cent. I am pleased that the Turnbull Government's record and growing funding for NT schools is able to support your work, and that of your teachers and support staff, to be a community of learning for all of your students, whilst enriching the Palmerston community with your engagement.

Yours sincerely

Simon Birmingham

REMEMBERING THABO

A Letter from Ayanda, Thabo's Mum

To all staff, parents and students,

My sincere gratitude for your invaluable support you gave during Thabo's illness and his final send off. We were humbled by the continuous pouring of love from you all as a big family. So deeply touching to know that Thabo was so much loved. Your prayers kept us going through the difficult times and more so, all the emotional and financial support you gave.

As a school, you demonstrated gross compassionate love for children. The outstanding support from his peers will forever be appreciated

Thank you. I am touched beyond words.
May God bless you all.

WORLD CHALLENGE SRI LANKA 2019

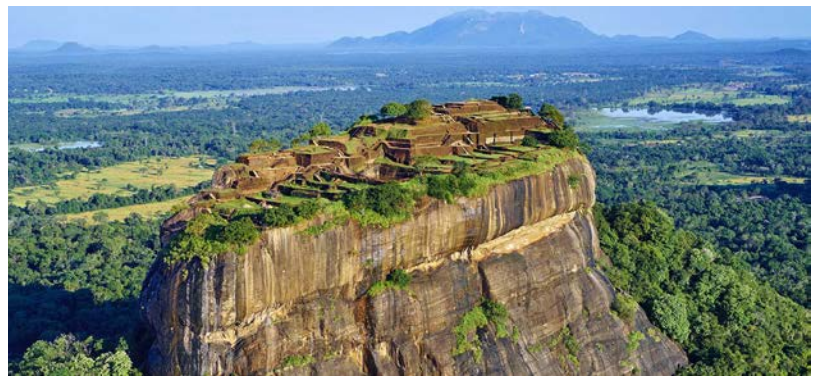

Thinking about doing the World Challenge Expedition to Sri Lanka next year but not quite decided? Remember it is not all that far away, and much of the cost will be covered through fundraising, so don't think it isn't an option!

Where is Sri Lanka?

Sri Lanka is an island nation off the southern tip of the Indian subcontinent, just under 6000km from Darwin, less than driving to Adelaide and back.

What is Sri Lanka Known For?

Sri Lanka, formerly known as Ceylon, has a rich cultural history spanning thousands of years. It is known for its natural beauty, ancient temples and palaces, amazing wildlife, and for being one of the most important tea growing regions in the world. Due to its location and geography, it has been an important centre of world trade since the days of the ancient silk road, and remains so to this day. It has a diverse mix of cultures with influence from Buddhism, Hinduism, and British Colonialism.

TREBUCHET NEWS

Dr Tom Lewis OAM
Eagle Group Facilitator

Wednesday of Week 7 saw the culmination of the Eagle Group Trebuchet program. With the assistance of the Year 11 Modern History class, the group's two trebuchets fired against each other in competition in front of the entire school.

Trebuchets were a medieval siege engine. Built of wooden and metal beams and fastenings, trebuchets were often built on-site outside a castle or town that was being besieged. They would fling rock projectiles against the fortified walls, gradually hammering a breach through which the attackers could storm. Often the mere presence of a trebuchet or two could be enough for the defenders to surrender, as they would be better treated if they agreed to honourable terms rather than put the attacking force to weeks of work.

Our trebuchets were not as big as some of the medieval monsters which have been described from those days, but the principles worked in the same way. They use gravity to release a stored weight on a counter arm. This flings a sling in which the projectile is encased.

We had two teams for our competition, led by students Zac Howe and Macinlay Maslin. The ceremonial opening shots were fired by two local VIPs: federal MP Luke Gosling OAM, and the NT's Tony Sievers MLA, Member for Brennan, the Assistant Minister for Veterans Affairs, Sports & Community Events.

Then the two teams fired five shots each, together, in a competition for range. They were evenly matched, though there were penalties for firing before the whistle, and a misfire. Then three shots were fired for accuracy, against two wheelie bins, one atop another. A direct hit was scored, with the two kilo water-filled milk carton projectile knocking the top bin off. Team Zac led the charge early, and fired the direct hit, but also misfired and scored zero for a shot, so Team Mac pipped them at the post. Both teams won chocolate prizes.

May your journey always be filled with blessings and may the life of Saint Mary MacKillop ignite in you the flames of faith and service

As an education outcome, the project was good value. It taught:

- Leadership, for both emerging and accomplished student leaders
- Teamwork for all
- Physics in a number of ways from lever principles to a study of stored kinetic energy
- Mathematics in calculating various angles in the building, plus understanding ratios of the weights involved, and
- History in developing an understanding of medieval times.

The groups involved would especially like to thank Mr Paul Dimmick, for his passion and knowledge; Ms Alix Stirling, for scoring and encouragement of the Eagle Group, and school officers Mr Roy Levers and Mr Ian Anderson. And Principal Graham, for backing an idea that let us combine education with FUN!

A Fantastic Year 8 Camp

During Week 4 of this term, Year 8 students went on an adventure... well to Adventure Bound Camp at Wallaroo! Students gained and increased their capacity to work together in teams to solve challenges, to overcome fears and to have fun! Students soared above the ground when rock climbing and on the flying fox. They climbed crates and high ropes and they orienteered through the outback, while camping outside in the elements. Students enjoyed dance offs and toasting marshmallows by the fire. A big thank you to all the Year 8 parents in preparing their children with the necessities they needed for camp. All in all, it was a great experience for everyone involved!

Information for parents and carers about NAPLAN going online in 2019.

Please note the following:

- The National Assessment Program Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) is an annual national assessment for all students in Years 3, 5, 7 and 9
- NAPLAN provides governments, education leaders, schools, parents and students with information on how Australian students are performing in the essential areas of literacy and numeracy.
- In 2018 the first schools around the country successfully performed NAPLAN online.
- It is expected that all eligible schools across the country will be using NAPLAN Online by 2020.
- NAPLAN Online will allow better assessment through tailored testing, more precise data on our students, faster turnaround of results and more precise measurement.
- It has been confirmed that the NT will start its implementation of NAPLAN Online in May 2019.
- The transition to NAPLAN Online will involve about 40 schools with high bandwidth internet participating in the first stage of preparation activities, which includes school readiness training in August and testing in September 2018 for most schools.
- Our school will be part of this first group of schools transitioning to NAPLAN Online in the NT.
- We will participate in platform readiness testing in Term 4 to ensure the updated platform for 2019 meets the needs of Territory students.
- We want NAPLAN Online to be a positive experience for our students, teachers and school community.
- More information regarding test events will be communicated to you closer to the time.
- If you require further information please contact lorna.parker@nt.catholic.edu.au.
