2 WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT ANY VET COURSE

The College RTO has a number of Vocational Education and Training courses registered on its scope of registration. You can see this on the National Register at www.training.gov.au under our RTO code 45147. All of the training products on the National Register provide successful completers with a nationally recognised training outcome (a qualification or statement of attainment). To be nationally recognised, a qualification must meet the guidelines of the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) which sets the standards for each level of a qualification's outcomes. You can find out more about the AQF at www.aqf.edu.au.

2.1 COMPETENCY BASED TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT

Training and assessment in VET is competency based. This means that achievement is determined by each individual reaching the pre-set competency (knowledge and skills) criteria – not a grade or a percentage. Each assessment will be assessed by your trainer/assessor as having either achieved a 'Satisfactory' or 'Not Yet Satisfactory' standard. If your work has been marked as Not Yet Satisfactory, you will be provided the opportunity to re-do this assessment. If additional training and/or support is required to help you understand the learning, your trainer will arrange additional tuition for you.

When all competencies towards a unit of competency have been demonstrated you will be marked off for that unit as "Competent". If you are unable to finish the course, but have completed some assessments, you may be eligible for units of competency in partial completion of the qualification resulting in a Statement of Attainment. These units can still be used as credits towards your NTCET. If you need to withdraw from the course for any reason, please provide a withdrawal letter.

2.2 UNIQUE STUDENT IDENTIFIER (USI)

As of 1 January 2015, all students enrolling in a VET course offered by any RTO must supply the RTO with the USI. A USI can be obtained from www.usi.gov.au. The USI is then held by you and needs to be provided for all future VET training. A learner without a USI cannot be issued with a VET certificate or statement of attainment for any studies completed.

3 STARTING YOUR COURSE

3.1 APPLICATION PROCESS

There are two ways to enter into a VET course with MacKillop RTO. You can submit an Expression of Interest (EOI) Form at any time throughout the year either on paper or preferably use the automated EOI form:

www.mackillopnt.catholic.edu.au/rto_enrolment/

If you are a school student please apply through your schools' VET and Career Coordinator to submit an EOI.

3.2 ENROLMENT INTERVIEWS

Enrolment interviews are conducted for all RTO courses to ensure that students are fully aware of the program requirements and to give the opportunity for prospective students to ask questions. At the enrolment interview you will be asked to complete a short evaluation to confirm your Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) levels. This test is designed to assist the trainer in understanding how they can support you in completing your course. If LLN issues are identified, this does not automatically preclude you from participating in all courses.

Students with special needs or who have an education plan, will be required to provide their needs and plans to the RTO prior to course enrolment.

3.3 STUDENT INDUCTION PROCEDURES

As part of your introduction to the course you will be provided with an induction when commencing your course. This is an information session that goes through this handbook, the qualification or program Course Guide and the Course Timetable. Additional information about your rights and responsibilities as a VET student will be outlined and the role of the RTO will be explained. You will be asked to sign an induction checklist to agree that you have received and understood the information.

3.4 ASSESSMENTS & PROCEDURES

At the beginning of the course you will be given a Course Timetable which outlines the schedule of training, the expected time allocation for each topic and importantly, the expected assessment deadlines to assist you to plan your approach to the projects and jobs in the course.

Assessments will vary with each unit. They may include written assessments, practical observations, projects, oral questions and/or portfolios.

4 STUDENT SUPPORT AND WELLBEING

You have access to a range of support services which include induction, LLND assessment, disability access, individual support and assistance, English language support available, access to trainer and assessor consultations and feedback, email access to trainers/ assessors, referral to Catholic Care and contact with the RTO Manager.

Within the course, more specialist assistance for students can be accessed (made by arrangement with the RTO Manager) through:

- Internet resources;
- Additional tutorial classes;
- Individual mentoring;
- LLN or English as a Second Language support (made by arrangement with the RTO Manager)

5 CODE OF CONDUCT, RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

5.1 FOR THE LEARNER

Code of Conduct

Students are to:

- Commit to the course and attend weekly;
- Be “In class, on time and on task”;
- Participate in lessons and activities;
- Complete assessment tasks and submit on time;
- Manage their time well to ensure all VET requirements are met;
- Seek help immediately when needed.
- Act appropriately and respectfully while on College grounds.
- Dress to be professional
 - Uniform top to be worn on training days and in the workplace
 - Footwear suitable for the industry in which you are undertaking training (to have a back strap or closed shoes)
 - Skirts/shorts to be close to the knee (no short skirts or short shorts)
- Phones are able to be used during class time for research purposes
- Gym equipment is not to be used by VET students without permission and supervision.

Vocational Work Placement

Your participation in work placement is part of your assessment and as such is a compulsory, key component of the program for all Cert III Qualifications. For other qualifications there may be Vocational Work Placement which will provide real workplace experiences that build on the skills learnt in the classroom. Attendance at the workplace is compulsory and you will be expected to commit to this and comply with workplace requirements.

While on placement there is support from the RTO, your trainer, the employers and the Department of Education’s Industry Engagement Co-ordinator to ensure that you gain the best experience and training. You are required to commit to your placement like a real job being mindful of the Code of Conduct while working in the wider community and with the equipment and resources of the workplace.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the copying of another person’s work and pretending that it is your own. If you want to use a piece of another person’s work to explain something, you will need to make sure that you detail where you got the information from and who wrote it. This is called referencing. If you do group work or work with a partner, you should also make sure that you note this on your assessment so that your trainer/assessor knows that your work will be very similar to the work submitted by your partner or group. If you are unsure of the rules, you should ask your trainer if you can work with a partner or group for the assignment or assessment work. Plagiarism is a serious offence and may result in your work being marked as Not Yet Satisfactory or Not Competent. You may be required to resubmit your assignments or assessments again, or more serious disciplinary action may be undertaken and you could be removed from the course. All cases of suspected plagiarism will be investigated by the RTO Manager.

5.2 FOR THE RTO

The RTO is responsible for the quality of the training and assessment you receive and as a Registered Training Organisation must comply with National Vocational Education and Training Regulator (Outcome Standards for NVR Registered Training Organisations) Instrument 2025. Our compliance with these standards is monitored by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) www.asqa.gov.au.

If the RTO closes or ceases to deliver any part of the training product that you are enrolled in, MacKillop Catholic College RTO will ensure that you are transitioned to another RTO to provide a continuity of training. Should the College RTO make any decision to involve a third party in your training or assessment or to change its ownership or any other matter that you should be informed about, this will be communicated to you promptly via letter and/or email. And the fees for training determined by that RTO would be charged to you.

6 FEES AND CHARGES

The College RTO does not charge a fee for delivery courses to school students.

Adult students are to contact the office for fees payable.

Any re-issuance request for a certificate or a statement of attainment has a cost of $30.00 per issue.

8 RECOGNITION & STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

8.1 AQF

Credit Transfer

Students who have evidence in the form of AQF certification or authenticated transcripts from any another RTO or from an AQF authorised issuing authority for units of competency relevant to this qualification will be given credit upon enrolment.

Recognition of prior learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) means an assessment process that assesses the competency(ies) of an individual that may have been acquired through formal, non-formal and informal learning, to determine the extent to which that individual meets the requirements specified in the training package or VET accredited course.

- formal learning refers to learning that takes place through a structured program of instruction and is linked to the attainment of an AQF qualification or statement of attainment (for example, a certificate, diploma or degree);
- non-formal learning refers to learning that takes places through a structured program of instruction, but does not lead to the attainment of AQF qualification or statement of attainment (for example, in-house professional development programs); and,
- informal learning refers to learning that results through experience of work-related, social, family, hobby or leisure activities (for example work history and experience).

8.2 HOW TO APPLY FOR CT/ RPL

You can apply for Credit or RPL at enrolment or at any time prior to the commencement of the course through the RTO office.

You may ask your trainer for assistance with the application form. They will list the types of evidence that you may have that will be applicable. This could include, for example:

- samples of your work;
- portfolio of evidence (including photographs, digital recordings etc);
- an observation of you at work; or,
- third party reports from your employer/work placement or another person who knows your work.

Sometimes the review of evidence is combined with the assessor conducting assessments that show you already have the knowledge and skills. For example:

- practical skill assessments; or,
- written or oral knowledge assessments.

8.3 NTCET CREDIT

All qualifications or units of competency that make up a qualification, in the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) can contribute to the completion requirements of the Northern Territory Certificate of Education and Training (NTCET). Currently for every 70 nominal hours of nationally recognised training successfully completed, 10 credits will be recognised towards the NTCET. All competencies/modules are assigned NTCET Stage 1 or Stage 2 and can contribute to some of the compulsory components of the NTCET pattern. The SACE Board determines the stage at which qualifications will be granted recognition in the NTCET. For details of how specific VET qualifications can earn NTCET credits at Stage 1 and/or Stage 2, please speak to your VET co-ordinator.

8.4 Certificate

On successful completion of your course you will be provided with a nationally recognised certificate.

Should you not complete your course, you will receive a Statement of Attainment for any units for which you have been deemed.

9 FEEDBACK

Receiving constructive feedback about progress is an important part of improving our training programs. The College RTO has a continuous improvement program that is designed to gain feedback from as many sources as possible to ensure we are listening to and acting upon constructive feedback.

9.1 SURVEYS

During and at the completion of your course you will be asked to complete surveys. These are designed to assist the College RTO to improve the course, its services and support for all students.

9.2 COMPLIMENTS

At any time you can provide compliments, suggestions and general feedback about the RTO and its courses to your trainer or by emailing rto.admin@nt.catholic.edu.au.

9.3 COMPLAINTS

The College RTO seeks to prevent complaints by ensuring that students are satisfied with their training and its outcomes. All staff are expected to be fair, courteous and helpful in all dealings with students. However should you or a parent, or other stakeholder have a complaint, it should be raised with the relevant staff member in the first instance. If the issue cannot be resolved, a formal complaint (in writing) should be emailed to rto.admin@nt.catholic.edu.au.

The Complaints Policy can be found on mackillopnt.catholic.edu.au/rto/.

9.4 ASSESSMENT APPEALS

The Appeals Policy can be found on mackillopnt.catholic.edu.au/rto/.

Appeals forms are also available at any time from the RTO Manager. An appeal is used when you disagree with the outcome of a decision. For example, if your trainer has said that your work is 'Not Yet Satisfactory' but you believe that you have completed the tasks correctly, you can ask to have the work re-marked by a different trainer/assessor. All appeals must be lodged in writing directly to the RTO Manager. Staff can assist you in lodging an appeal.

If (having exhausted all internal processes) you are still not satisfied, you may take the matter externally to an appropriate third party or contact the National Training Complaints Hotline: 133873
